

Assessment of the reliability and relevance of the food data collected in national Household Consumption and Expenditure Surveys

Section 1. Survey basic information

Q1_1 Country

Q1_2 Survey title

Include survey year(s) in title, e.g. Living Standards Measurement Survey 2009-2010

Q1_3 Primary Investigator

Q1_4 Survey ID

Q1_5 Language (Language of the version of the questionnaire used for evaluation)

Q1_6 Dates of data collection: Started Ended (Enter MM-YYYY)

Q1_7 Sample size (Number of households): Total Urban Rural

Q1_8 Geographical coverage

Q1_8a Geographical stratification

This is the lowest geographical level for which statistically-valid results can be reported (e.g., district, urban/rural).

Q1_9 Universe

Q1_10 - Are the food data: Cross-sectional Panel Both Reset

Q1_11 Type of panel: Across surveys Intra-survey Both Reset

For the purposes of this assessment, "panel" data are defined as those for which the same households are included in the sample in multiple surveys (across surveys) or the same households are included in multiple rounds of the same survey, but not in multiple surveys (intra-survey).

Does the questionnaire include information on: Q1_12 Status of interview (complete/incomplete/etc) Yes No

Q1_13 Date of interview(s) Yes No

Q1_14 This assessment form was filled out by

Q1_15 Date

Q1_16 Comments on Section 1

Section 2. Whether the interview or diary method is used for food data collection

Q2_1 Method used: Interview only Diary only Both Reset

- Q2_1a Type of diary:
- Individual diary for all food items
 - Household diary for all food items
 - Household diary for all foods items plus individual diary for selected food items
 - Reset

Q2_2 Comments on Section 2

Section 3. Timing and periodicity of food data collection

Q3_1 Which of these methods are used to collect the food data?

- Method 1 One survey round that takes place over a limited time during the year (for example, one, two or three consecutive months).
- Method 2 Multiple rounds spread throughout a year's period (for example, every three months), with a full sample of households being administered surveys in each round.
Note: The survey can be repeated with the same households in the full sample for all rounds or, alternatively, with a new sample of households in each round.

Q3_1a How many rounds?

Q3_1b What is the approximate number of days between rounds, that is, the time lapse between the 1st day of each round ?

- Method 3 Multiple rounds spread throughout a year's period, with sub-sets (usually 1/12) of sample households surveyed in each month.
- Reset

Q3_2 Comments on Section 3

Section 4. Recall and reference periods for at-home food data collection

"At home" food means food that is intended to be consumed at the survey respondent's place of residence.

A. Surveys employing the interview method

If a survey employs both the interview and diary methods, fill in both parts A and B.

Q4_1 Check all recall periods used for the collection of the at-home food data.

Only check recall periods for the collection of the data in the main food acquisition/consumption module in which data are collected on individual food items. If the recall period is "Since my last visit", check the box below that is the typical or targeted time since that last visit.

- 7 days or "past week"
- 14 days or "last two weeks"
- 15 days
- Last 30 days
- Last month
- "Typical" or "usual" month
 - └─ What is the recall period? days
 - (E.g., usual month in last year: 365 days)*
- "Typical" or "usual" week
 - └─ What is the recall period? days
- Other (specify)

Q4_2 If more than one recall period was used, check one of the following

- The different recall periods are used for all food items (i.e. for each item, data are collected using each recall period)
- Different recall periods are used for different groups of food (e.g., 7 days for vegetables but 30 days for cereals)
Specify the specific recall periods of food items in comments.
- Reset

Q4_3 Is the recall period bounded? (The enumerator asks "Since my last visit...") Yes No Reset

B. Surveys employing the diary method

Q4_4 What is the number of visits by interviewers to collect the at-home food data during each round of the survey?

Q4_5 What is the total number of days for which the diary was to be kept during each round of the survey?
If both household and individual diaries are used, note any difference in the total number of days in comments.

Q4_6 How often over this period did enumerators visit illiterate households to fill in their diary? Every days
 Don't know

Q4_7 Comments on Section 4

Section 5. Sources of data collected on at-home food

Only answer "yes" to Q5_1, Q5_2 and Q5_3 if data are collected individually for the source. Note in comments if data are reported on the sources but not individually, or if data are collected for additional sources than those noted here.

Q5_1 Are data collected on the quantities of (or expenditures on) food purchases? Yes No Reset

- Food acquired from purchases
- Food consumed from purchases
- Both
- Not specified

Q5_2 Are data collected on the quantities (or value) of food consumed from own production? Yes No Reset

In most cases respondents are directly asked to report on the food consumed from own production, but sometimes the "disappearance method" is used whereby they are asked to report on their production of foods along with uses other than consumption (e.g., sales, animal feed) in order to estimate consumption. If either of these methods are used, click "Yes".

Q5_3 Are data collected on quantities of (or expenditures on) food received in kind? Yes No Reset

- Food acquired from in-kind receipts
- Food consumed from in-kind receipts
- Both
- Not specified

Q5_4 Check the sources of in-kind foods received for which data are collected individually:

- Gifts
- Payment from an employer
- Food assistance
- Other, including grouped items (specify)

- Sources are not specified

Q5_5 Are data collected on food stocks? Yes No Reset

- Stocks of foods produced by the household
- Stocks of foods purchased or received in-kind
- Other (specify)

Answer Q5_6 only if data are collected on food acquired, in which case the number in this box is 1.

Q5_6 Does the questionnaire or diary form contain a statement specifying that respondents will be asked about food for eventual consumption by household members (e.g., "for household members to eat", "for your household's own consumption")?

Yes No Reset

Answer Q5_7 only for surveys employing the interview method.

Q5_7 Before being asked to report on their acquisition or consumption of individual foods, are respondents first asked a leading question pertaining to whether any household member consumed each food?

Yes No Reset

Q5_8 What is the recall period for the leading question? days

Q5_9 Comments on Section 5

Q6_1 What is the total number of food items listed on the questionnaire or, in the case of a diary, reported in the data set?

Count all food items, including those referring to food consumed away from home. Count a food item listed multiple times but for different units of measure (e.g. kgs and heaps) or sources (e.g., purchased or received as assistance) only once.

Q6_2a How many food items refer to food consumed away from home?

A food item is considered to refer to "food consumed away from home" if the item itself, the title of the section in which it is found, or a question regarding the item contains the following words (or variations): food eaten out, restaurant foods, foods eaten in restaurants and other establishments, food away from home, food eaten away, food eaten out of the home, food eaten at other people's homes, meals eaten out, meals away.

Q6_2b How many food items are processed foods?

A processed food is "any food other than a raw agricultural commodity and includes any raw agricultural commodity that has been subject to processing, such as canning, cooking, freezing, dehydration, or milling" (USDA). Many processed foods have multiple ingredients, e.g., tortillas.

Section 7. Data for calculating metric quantities of at-home foods and food expenditures

7.1. Units of measure

A. Food purchases

Q7_1 Are data collected on expenditures on foods purchased (or on foods consumed that were purchased)?

Yes No Reset

For how many at-home food items?

Q7_2 Are data collected on quantities of foods purchased (or of foods consumed that were purchased)?

Yes No Reset

IF "NO", SKIP TO "B. HOME PRODUCED FOOD"

For how many at-home food items?

Q7_3 For how many food items are respondents asked to report quantities of food items in a single, pre-defined unit of measure?

Q7_3a How many of these units of measure are metric?

Q7_4 In cases where respondents choose the unit of measure to report in, does the interviewer or diary respondent record the chosen units of measure in plain text? (coding takes place later at headquarters or by interviewers)
